Broadband meeting July 24

A community meeting concerning broadband service in Lee County will be held Tuesday, July 24, at the Happy Top Community Center. It will begin at 6 p. m.

Rene' True from Connect Kentucky and a representative from Altius Communications will be present. There will also be some members of the four-county board at the meeting.

State Sen. Robert Stivers and state Rep. Teddy Edmonds have been invited.

The public is being invited to attend.

Toby Herald

Toby Herald runs for state rep

Beattyville businessman Gary Wayne "Toby" Herald has announced he is running for the position of state representative from the 91st District. A Republican, he will oppose Democratic incumbent Teddy Edmonds this fall.

Asked why he is running, Herald said, "My goal in seeking this office is to represent our people in a logical, realistic way and bring much needed change to this area. I don't feel like this area has been represented as it should be, and I am ready to push things in a different direction. If anyone has any questions, concerns, or topics they would like to discuss with me, please feel free to contact me at toby4staterep@hotmail.com."

The 91st District encompasses Lee, Estill and Breathitt counties.

Nutrition to be offered in schools

A federally funded, state managed program for nutrition education in public schools is going to be offered this fall to Lee County students.

The program, which begins October 1, will have representatives from local health departments going into the schools to educate students on good nutrition and physical activity.

"The Kentucky River District Health Department – Lee County is very pleased to have the opportunity to provide nutrition education to students in our public schools," said Lee County Health Center County Coordinator Vivian Smith. "Prevention education is one of public health's primary functions. Our trained staff of nurses, dietitians and health educators is very excited and looking forward to working on specific programs to put into place in our schools. Improving food choices and becoming more active will make a significant improvement in the health and prosperity of our communities."

"Providing proper nutrition education to students at an early age will go a long way to help combat Kentucky's high obesity rates," said Kentucky Cabinet for Health and Family Services Secretary Audrey Tayse Hanes. "The earlier we can reach children and teach the importance of proper nutrition and physical activity, the greater the likelihood they will adopt a lifetime of healthy eating and active living."

There are three behaviors and practices that are going to be stressed to the students:

- Make half you plate fruits and vegetables, at least half your grains whole grains, and switch to fat-free or low-fat milk and milk products;
- Increase physical activity and reduce time spend in sedentary behaviors as part of a healthy lifestyle; and
- Maintain appropriate calorie balance during each stage of life---childhood, adolescence, adulthood, pregnancy and breastfeeding, and advanced age.

"Sometimes children can be the best teachers, so our hope is that they will pass on to their parents some of what they have learned at school about the importance of nutrition and physical activity," said Teresa James, acting commissioner of the Department for Community based services. "If children ask their parents to serve more fruits and vegetables, or take a walk instead of watching TV and the parents comply, this effort can benefit the entire household---just look at the influence children have had on recycling."

Former Breathitt school chief might plead guilty

Indication was given last week that former Breathitt County Schools Superintendent Arch Turner might plead guilty to vote buying charges he faces in federal court.

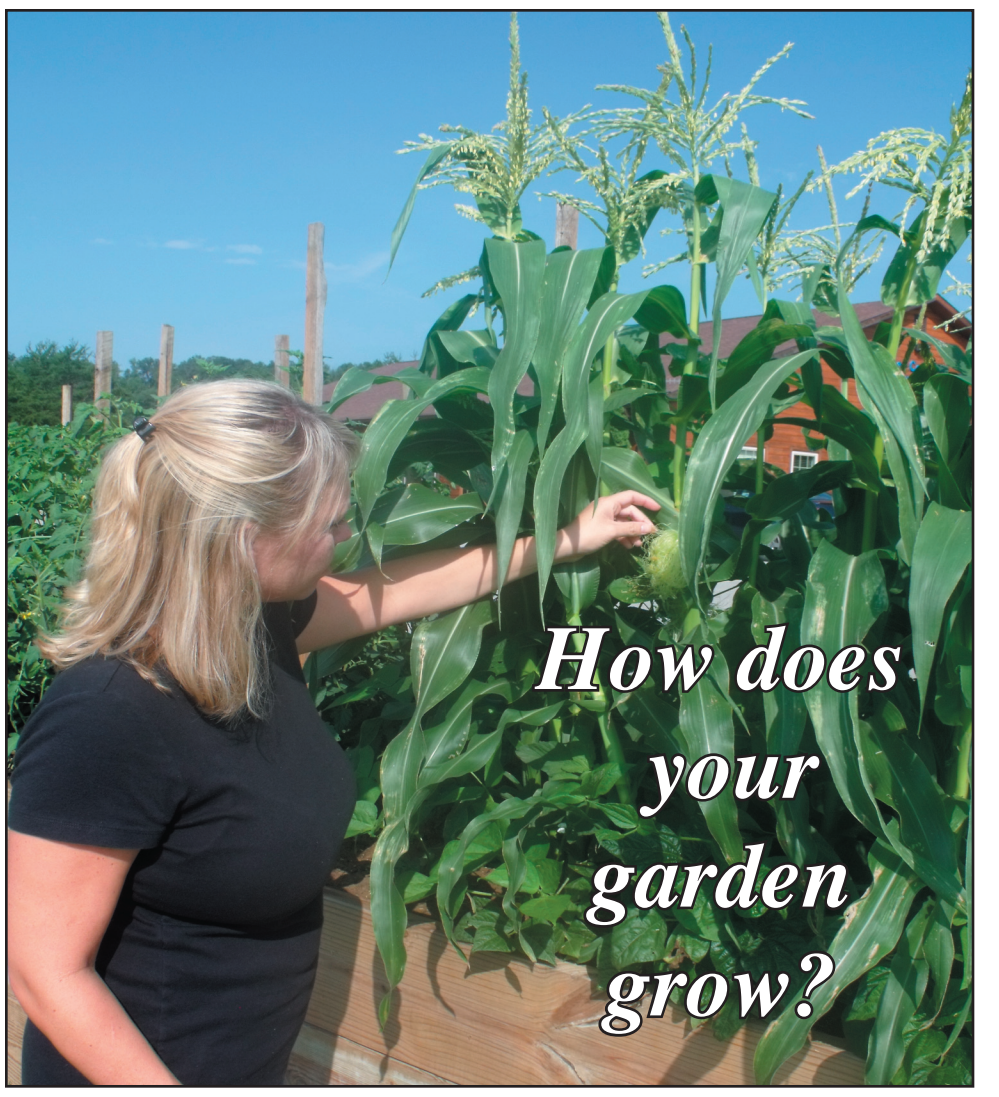

Turner's attorney filed a motion for re-arraignment last Thursday, July 12, on five counts named in his indictment.

Motions for re-arraignment usually indicate that the defendant wishes to change his/her plea from not guilty to guilty. Those motions, however, usually say that explicitly. This one did not.

The indictment alleges that Turner was involved in a vote-buying scheme in the May 2010 primary in the county.

He has been charged with trying to influence a witness; conspiring to buy votes; providing money to buy votes; getting a witness to lie; and lying himself to an FBI agent.

He resigned from his office in May.

Village post office comes to St. Helens

The U. S. Postal Service will open a Village Post Office July 31 at Sue's Pantry in St. Helens. It will be the third of its kind in the state.

Village Post Offices (VPO) are in response to the poor financial condition in which the service finds itself. It is reducing hours at traditional post offices and moving to the VPOs.

VPOs are in existing businesses, town halls and government centers. They will provide a specific range of services that include the sale of first-class postage stamps, offering priority mail, and accepting mail.

The state's first VPO was in Tomahawk, and the second is opening this week in Lynnville.

Daniel Boone National Forest lifts fire ban

Due to recent rainfall, the ban prohibiting campfires and other open flames outside of developed recreation areas in the Daniel Boone National Forest is now lifted. The ban was issued last month due to drought conditions across the forest.

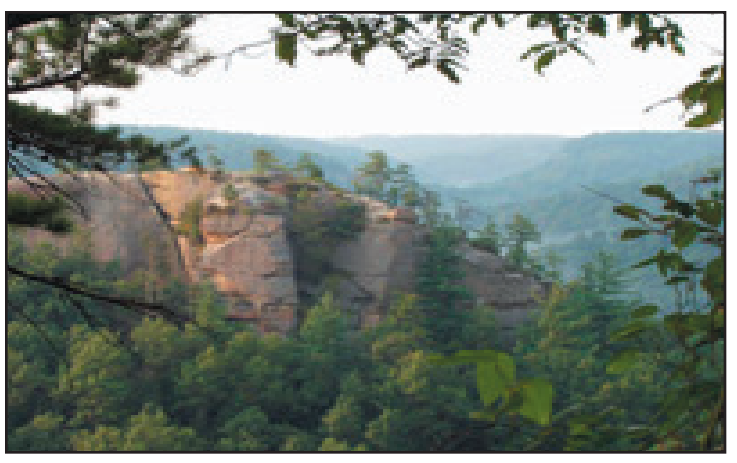

"We urge forest visitors to continue using caution with fire," said Deputy Forest Supervisor Bill Lorenz.

"While the recent rains were beneficial and reduced the risk for wildfire, the precipitation level for this region remains below normal.

"Our fire management officials will continue to monitor the drought situation across the forest," added Lorenz.

Most counties in the national forest area have also lifted fire bans declared last month.

A separate ban prohibiting fireworks in the Daniel Boone National Forest remains in effect.

Knocking Monkeys

By Chuck Caudill Jr

On Saturday, I was walking through the "Mission Hill" section of Boston, MA and saw a sign that said "Have you given local merchants a chance? Shop locally in Mission Hill." I had to think about the concept for a few minutes. A section of the city was reminding folks to buy from the neighborhood. This wasn't about shopping in Boston, but a section of about 12 square blocks.

After thinking about it, the idea made sense. See, getting around in Boston isn't the same as getting around in Beattyville, or Lee County, or even Lexington. Parking is frequently a huge challenge and often has to be paid for. Then there's the traffic which can turn a 6 mile trip into an hour ride-one way. So, the merchants were reminding everyone that they needed to do their part to keep the stores convenient by shopping at them.

I kept paying attention and noticed there were other parts of the city "South Boston, Chestnut Hill", etc… which all were working to market their neighborhoods. Again, these are neighborhoods, all in the same city, but each unique in itself with its own personality and charm. The local business owners, landlords, and residents had to work together to make their few blocks unique and convenient to make their quality of life what they wanted.

It made me think about New York. Even deeper than the five boroughs (Manhattan, Brooklyn, Bronx, Staten Island, Queens, there are places in Manhattan like " Alphabet City, Hell's Kitchen, Greenwich Village, etc…" which, like Boston, are unique communities which live inside the larger communities.

This started me contemplating Beattyville and Lee County and the entire region. I sensed in the major urban areas, there is an understanding of having to work together to create the atmosphere the group wants to live in. In our area, what I sense for the most part is, folks are protecting what they've got and waiting for "something" (I don't know what) to create the change that will improve the community. I'm not saying there aren't folks working to make things better. There are. I'm simply giving my impressions of the atmosphere in the various communities I've been to recently.

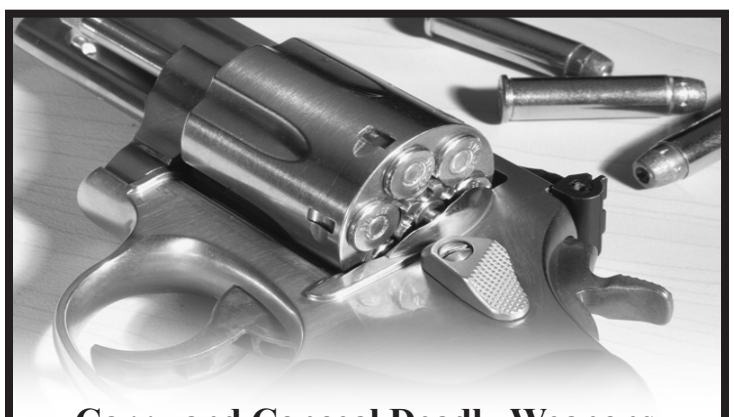

I know some of you do this already, but for those who don't, have you considered giving your local merchants a chance to match or better a deal from elsewhere? If they can't match the deal, do you consider the drive to and from where you buy the product? Is the convenience of a restaurant or store or attraction worth a little extra in the short term to keep the business vibrant?

Has anyone considered what the personalities of the town, county, region are? Who determines the personality of a community? When I moved to Manhattan in the 80s, Mid-town was known for Broadway theatres and a place where the tourists were preyed on by the dregs of New York society. Criminals were everywhere. Now Mid-town is still known for Broadway theatres, but also as a place where the entire family can come to celebrate. It took the state, city, borough, and community folks all working together to make things work. Send comments to chuck102001@aol.com

"No one was more surprised than me when my summer and winter electric bills dropped by half…"

Carson Smith of Clay County was tired of paying what he knew were too-high electric bills and by making his home more energy efficient, he cut those bills nearly in half!

"When I could look around the frame of my back door and literally see outside I knew I was paying a lot of unnecessary dollars trying to heat my backyard," said Smith. "I knew I was bound to be losing a lot of my cool air in the summertime, too. That's why I decided to call Jackson Energy."

Preacher Bob's Korner

By Billy Davis

We get what:

PRAY FOR:

"Ask and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be open unto you. (Matthew 7:7)."

James tells us…ye have not, because ye ask not. (James 4:2)…"Whatsoever ye ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive. (Matthew 21:22)

"Prayer is not overcoming God's reluctance; it is laying hold of His highest willingness (Trench)".

Prayer is the wheel that turns the world. We are to be partners with God, he is always looking for such.

SAY FOR:

This has become very popular preaching on TV today, we must confess with our mouth. "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. (I John 1:9)"

The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart; that if we confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus Christ that God hat raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved. (Romans 10:8-9)

"…out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh." (Matthew 12:34)

PAY FOR:

There is a real exception to this. It is "Jesus paid it all" –SALVATION

God has an economy. If we give it shall be given. We will get out just what we put in.

Fellow went up to heaven only to find he only had a small cabin. He asked why. The reply "That is all you sent up. This is so very true" The more a man denies himself, the more he will obtain from God. (Horace)"

"The first lesson in Christ's school is self-denial (Henry)

A different view

By Betty Crabtree

Why does most of mankind get upset at the things that are happening in the world today? And let me say here, there are a lot of things to get upset about! But we shouldn't be surprised, for Jesus said in John 16:33 (KJV)..In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world.

What exactly did He mean by that statement? Maybe the Amplified translation can clear it up. This is what it says. "I have told you these things, so that in Me you may have [perfect] peace & confidence. In the world you have tribulation & trials & distress & frustration; but be of good cheer [take courage]; be confident, certain, undaunted]! For I have overcome the world [I have deprived it if power to harm you & have conquered it for you]."

David said in Psalms, "What time I am afraid, I will trust in the Lord." That verse came to mean a lot to me. Because of my once very frightening experience at the dentist. For years I refused to go to the dentist, resulting in the loss of a lot of teeth. But one day I decided, "Yes, I'm afraid, but I'm going to trust the Lord & get my teeth taken care of. It didn't kill me! I didn't die! But as the result of trusting the Lord to help me I learned step by step, a little at a time to trust God. I'm still learning, I'm depending on Him to strengthen me.

But back to Jesus statement that in this world we would have trouble, times of testing, trials, temptations, fears; what do we do about it? Trust God!

1 Corinthians 10:13 tells us He will not allow us to be tested, tried, tempted, above what we are able to bear, but would make us a way of escape so that we would be able to bear the whatever it is that is troubling us.

I'm glad He does so! Sometimes the 'escape' is long in coming, but hang in there, He is true to His word. I've found it so!

The Word

By Gerline McIntosh

Hello to everyone there not days that we are having they're sure hard to bear. We still got part of July and August to go yet. Hope we get rain soon.

I want to write this week about serving the Lord, and His love.

The first commandment is to love no other God before him, and to love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and all thy mind and strength.

John 3:16

(16) For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him should not parish but have everlasting life.

John 16:17,18,19,20,21

(17)For God sent not his son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through him might be saved.

(18)He that believeth on him is not condemned, but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

(19)And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.

(20)For everyone that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved.

(21)But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

I John 4:7-11, 20

(7)Beloved let us love one another, for love is of God, and everyone that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.

(8)He that loeth not knoweth not God, for God is love.

(9)In this was manifested the love of God towards us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world , that we might live through him.

(10)Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitation for our sins.

(11)Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought to love one another.

(20)If a man say, I love God and hateth his brother, he is a liar, for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?

Matthew 6:24

(24)No man can serve two masters, for either he will hate the one, and love the other, or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

John 15:12

(3)This is my commandment, that ye love one another, as I have loved you.

John 3:3

(3)Jesus answered and said unto him, verily, verily, I say unto thee, except a man be born again, he cannot see the Kingdom of God.

II Corinthians 7:1

(1)Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

James 3:7,8,10

(7)Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

(8)Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you, cleanse your hands, ye sinners, and purify your hearts, ye double minded.

(10)Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.

I Peter 5:6,7

(6)Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time.

(7)Casting all your core upon him, for he careth for you.

No sin is going to enter in heaven we have to live right and keep ourselves holy as he is holy.

Matthew 5:8

(8)Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God.

We have to be pure in our heart before we see the Father, for God judges the heart of man.

I will try my best to send in the column every week.

May God bless until next week.

Old Faithful

Have you ever been to Yellowstone National Park? If so, you may have seen Old Faithful. It is a cone-shaped geyser that erupts about every 91 minutes, shooting 3,700 to 8,400 gallons of boiling water into the air.

A group of explorers discovered Old Faithful in 1870. They were surprised to see it, and after watching it for a while, they named it Old Faithful because of its regular eruptions.

Today, Old Faithful continues to delight park visitors. It is not the biggest or the most consistent geyser, but it is a sight to behold nonetheless.

Eye to Eye
with David Blandford, M.D.

BONE DRUGS MAY HURT EYES

Women who are taking drugs to prevent bone-thinning osteoporosis should be aware that they may be at increased risk for developing serious inflammatory eye disease. Researchers have found that women taking bisphosphonates for the first time had a 45 percent increased risk of developing uveitis and scleritis. (Uveitis is inflammation of the middle layer of the eye, and scleritis is inflammation of the outer wall of the eye.) Although rare, some cases may result in blindness, but prompt medical treatment may reverse the blinding symptoms once the women stop taking the drugs. While bisphosphonates are generally safe, patients with previous histories of inflammatory eye disease or new symptoms should be quick to take action.

Any change in your vision should prompt a thorough and professional eye examination by the extremely qualified staff at KENTUCKY EYE INSTITUTE. Your vision is priceless! Marcum & Wallace Memorial Hospital - 8th Cleanest Hospital in the United States

Marcum & Wallace Memorial Hospital (MWMH) was recently ranked 8th on Becker's Top 40 Cleanest Hospitals in the United States. The rating was based on scores of more than 90 percent on the Hospital Consumer Assessment of Healthcare Providers and Systems rating for "percent of patients who reported that their room and bathroom were 'always' clean." The reporting period for this data was from April 2010 to March 2011.

Marcum & Wallace Memorial Hospital recognized their Hospitality department at a Board of Trustees meeting on Monday, July 16, 2012 for this great accomplishment. Susan Starling, CEO, stated "Our Hospitality department works extremely hard at ensuring that our patients and families have a clean environment. We are extremely proud of this achievement." Rodney Davis, MWMH Board Chairman, congratulated each employee and presented them with a gift of appreciation.

Lee County to have booth at state fair

For the first time, Lee County will be represented at the Kentucky State Fair this August 16-26th in the "Pride of the Counties of the Commonwealth" exhibit. The Pride of the Counties exhibit provides a great venue to promote businesses, celebrate heritage, display attractions, and find new audiences to visit Lee County. This is an opportunity for the community to be showcased statewide along with the other counties participating in the 10 day fair.

Powell County was the only surrounding county that participated in the State Fair exhibit in 2011. Lee County has made a request this year to be located next to their booth. The Tourism Commission would like to thank the Lee County Fiscal Court and the City Council of Beattyville for supporting this tourism effort. The main goal of having a booth is to promote the 25th Woolly Worm Festival this October 19-22, 2012. Other promotional materials will include world-class rock climbing at the Pendergrass Murray Recreational Preserve, information on the three forks of the Kentucky River and Sheltowee Trace, attractions of the surrounding area, and the many different lodging options in Lee County. The Commission also plans to have a few local artisans at the booth working their craft. This type of active participation will be great for attracting viewers to the booth and starting up conversations.

The Tourism Commission is looking for volunteers to help manage the Beattyville/Lee County booth. Also, if there are any businesses, clubs, or civic groups who would like to be represented, please drop off your information/materials for disbursement at the caboose Monday-Friday 10am-2pm. If anyone is interested in signing up for a booth time slot please contact Dedra Brandenburg at the caboose (606) 464-5038.
